FONTAINE® HEAVY-HAUL DONATES RENEGADE AG TRAILER TO DES MOINES AREA COMMUNITY COLLEGE

SPRINGVILLE, ALABAMA -- Fontaine Heavy-Haul, the recognized technology leader and innovator in the lowbed trailer industry, donated a Renegade AG trailer to the Des Moines Area Community College. The trailer was handed over to the college at the Agribusiness Showcase and Conference in Des Moines, IA, and will be used to promote the various educational opportunities available through the college.

The donated trailer will be used by the college to promote their educational programs. (Download this image for publication at <http://www.fontaineheavyhaul.com/press>).

Dan Rosen, Vice-President of Sales and Marketing for Fontaine Heavy-Haul, presented the trailer to Robert Denson, President of the college. "We are confident that DMACC will put this Fontaine Heavy-Haul Renegade AG to good use as they work hard to move agricultural education to the next level," remarked Rosen at the event.

It was a great choice for DMACC. The Renegade AG is the lightest, lowest, aluminum pullout outrigger trailer in the industry boasting a best-in-class loaded deck height of only 16 inches, and a concentrated load rating of 35 tons in 16 feet. Weighing in at only 17,700 pounds fully equipped, this trailer is ready to haul even the most difficult loads.

Fontaine Heavy-Haul is the business unit of Fontaine Trailer that is focused on supporting lowbed and extendable trailer customers. Fontaine is the largest platform trailer manufacturer in the world producing a complete line of aluminum, steel and composite trailers for the flatbed, dropdeck, heavy-haul and military markets. Manufacturing facilities are located in Jasper, Haleyville and Springville, Alabama. Fontaine is a Marmon Highway Technologies/Berkshire Hathaway company. Marmon Highway Technologies (MHT)
